Republican County Commissioners Choose Democrat Rardin Of Glades As Vice Chairman

Warren Lytal Bandlow Rardin Van Kessel

At the recent reorganization meeting of the Palm Beach County Commission Democrat Paul Rardin of the Glades was chosen vice chairman of the Republican-controlled county commission. In 1963 the chairman and the vice chairman were both Republicans. However, when time came to reorganize this year Veteran Board Member Rardin was chosen for the coveted vice chairman's spot. The member there is always stepped up to chairman the following year and the Glades member is looking forward to next year when he is scheduled to head the board for the fourth time. Election of Rardin to the vice chairman's berth is further proof that he gets along exceptionally well with the Republican board members.

Hospital Bids To Be Received March 3

Bids on the new million and a quarter dollar hospital for Pahokee will be received at the Pahokee City Hall at 2 p. m. on March 3, according to Mrs. Allie Okie, chairman of the hospital district. The new hospital is to provide 50 rooms and all the necessary space for modern equipment that any modern hospital should have and foundation is to be put down for an additional story atop the upcoming two stories.

Location of the new facility is to be on Barfield Highway where the district purchased 10 acres from W. H. Vann, Inc., for $50,000. The site is immediately north of the Pioneer Lumber Company location and is an ideal location for the hospital. The old hospital site is inadequate for the new structure.

Following awarding of the contract after bids are taken the contractor will be given 420 working days to complete the building. It is to be one of the very latest design and equipment will be modern in every detail. People in the Everglades Memorial Hospital District will be able to point with pride to the new structure.

Fresh Miami money has been pledged for rejuvenation of Talisman Sugar Corporation south of South Bay on US27. William D. Pawley won circuit court approval to spend some of his millions in revitalizing the corporation.

Judge James R. Knott signed the order in the presence of more than a score of attorneys, representing some of the company's creditors.

The orders gives Pawley until March 1 to satisfy the company's debts, which total in excess of eight million dollars.

Pawley, former owner of Miami's bus system, plans to recapitalize the company with four million dollars and an additional seven million dollars in a long-term mortgage.

Two New Schools In Belle Glade Soon

In a conference of city, county and school officials called Tuesday by County Commissioner Paul Rardin plans were worked out for construction of roads and approaches to two new schools to be erected in Belle Glade in the immediate future. One school for white children will be erected on a recently purchased 10-acre tract on Southeast Avenue G and the other school for Negroes will be erected on another recently purchased 10-acre tract south of the present colored football field.

Plans for the schools materialized so fast that the contract was let for their construction before plans were complete for the roads and approaches. Commissioner Rardin said yesterday, after the group of officials met, that complete harmony was prevalent among School Board Member Milton Carpenter, City Councilman Bill Bailey and himself and that work will start immediately on constructing the necessary roads and school approaches.

The white school on SE Avenue G is located on a piece of land known as the Hand property and was purchased from Mrs. Rutledge. The land for the colored school is a ten-acre tract in a growing cane field and was secured from the United States Sugar Corporation. Mr. Carpenter said the Sugar Company was cooperative in the transaction.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

Members of the typographical union now on strike at the Palm Beach Post Times, appealed to the county commission this week for help in getting the strike settled.

John Jensen, Lantana, vice president of the union, agreed that the county had no official position in the dispute between labor and management, but added that he was appearing before the board as a means of publicizing the union's side of the story.

Jensen read a prepared statement, leveling varied charges against management.

Mrs. Virginia Wolf, who identified herself as a member of the printer's union, also urged the commission to do what it could to settle the strike.

The county board listened and then voted to send the Post Times, copies of the statements read by the union representatives.

Officials of a new military academy set to open near International Airport in June, failed in their attempt Monday to get the county commission to spot zone a private club out of a liquor license.

Col. S. M. Brewer, head of the Palm Beach Military Academy, Inc., said he feared issuing a club liquor license to the Knight of Columbus would interfere with operation of the school.

The commission noted that the board had not been approached about the liquor license, since it is outside jurisdiction of the commission and the responsibility of the state beverage commission.

The commission later voted that if the liquor license was granted to the KC's and that if the club met state requirements, the county would not interfere with the club operation.

The Marks Landscaping and Pavement Company of West Palm Beach was given a $2,300 contract this week to design a development plan for John Prince Memorial Park.

The contract was approved by the county commission at the request of Chairman Ed Bandow in whose district John Prince Park is located.

The commission also: Hired Richard Hanna, Delray Beach architect, to draw plans for expansion of county stockage facilities.

Approved the employment of five additional men for the parks department to help maintain the county's growing system of parks and recreational areas.

Voted to adopt a resolution asked by the Florida Association of Manufacturers, calling on residents to "Buy Florida First" — a campaign to help sell Florida made products.

Heard that the FAA and the county were agreed on a location for a new terminal building at International Airport. The commission also voted to call an early meeting with FAA officials to discuss possible sale of 600 acres of airport land to help finance terminal construction.

Heard a report by Commissioner Paul Rardin that the county solicitor's office is most interested in prosecuting violations of carrying pistols without a permit, but that the county board must continue issuing gun permits.

Pahokee WSCS Holds February Meeting

The Pahokee Methodist WSCS held their February meeting at the First Methodist Church with Mrs. R. F. Hurt, president leading the session. The members decided to hold the annual WSCS membership tea Monday, May 4. A 1954-55 budget was adopted and a donation was voted to the WSCS district scholarship fund.

Discussion was made about the recommendation of the Vena Mae Schroder Circle that the WSCS join other local church groups in obtaining trained leaders for mission work among the underprivileged at local migratory labor camps. Mrs. Ray Hutton, progress chairman, introduced Mrs. R. J. Schroder, who spoke on "Methodist Heritage".

Folks Air Troubles Before Co. Board

The county commission this week found itself in the position of a five man sounding board and spent most of its regular meeting listening patiently to spokesmen whose problems apparently were outside board jurisdiction.

One of these spokesmen was Harry R. Jacobson, Palm Beach Shores, who appeared before the commission concerning affairs of the Port of Palm Beach Commission.

When advised the county commission had no authority over port operations, and that he should take his problems to the port, Jacobson said he had tried that avenue of approach and found nothing but a dead end.

He wanted the county board to step in and:

Halt a proposed deepening and widening of the port channel.

Prevent the port from constructing an oil refinery, which Jacobson said was in the making.

Investigate water tables to determine if flooding would occur if the channel is dredged.

Prevent U. S. Engineers from dumping soil on Peanut Island, where Jacobson said the port commission had plans to stockpile sand and operate a rock crusher. This type operation, Jacobson said, was not in accord with Department of Interior and state plans to keep Peanut Island as a recreational area.

The county board suggested to Jacobson that he take his suggestions before the Port Commission and if he failed to get the action he felt was needed, then take his problems to the grand jury and request an investigation of his complaints.

Indiantown Rodeo Scheduled Feb. 22

Over 15,000 tourists and residents are expected to witness the 17th annual Circle T Rodeo to be held in Indiantown February 22nd and 23rd. One of the outstanding sports attractions in Florida, and one of the best known Rodeos in the country, the Circle T Rodeo is also distinguished as the nation's only invitational rodeo. According to G. C. Troup, rodeo producer and owner of the Circle T, invitations have been sent to only the nation's foremost riders. The majority will come from the Western Cattle producing states, and Florida range country.

This year, the seating capacity of the concrete and steel rodeo bowl has been increased by over 3,000 seats to accommodate the "standing room only" crowds experienced in 1963. Permission has also been obtained from the Corps of Engineers to keep the Indiantown Bridge open to auto traffic and closed to pleasure craft during the Rodeo hours. It is expected that this will greatly reduce the traffic congestion of past years.

Mentioned in the January 3 edition of Life magazine as a prime Florida attraction, the Circle T Rodeo presents both visitors and residents with a little known side to Florida's life and economy. Cattle raising was Florida's first industry, founded by the first Spanish conquerors who used Indian prisoners as herders, thus making them the country's first cowboys. Since that time Florida has always been a cattle state, and the visitor to Indiantown's Circle T Rodeo can not fail to be impressed by the ranch land surrounding the community or the cattle men that take part in the event.

More than 40 billboards are scheduled to deliver the message during the next four months to motorists traveling in the state's eight major market areas.

"The idea is to encourage motorists to send citrus to friends or relatives in other parts of the country," said Homer E. Hooks, commission general manager.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with
U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Let Your Money Earn 4 1/2% Payable Semi-Annual

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest-egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount your name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Fashion Revue By Canal Pt. 4-H Group

Old MacDonald's Farm in Canal Point was the scene Tuesday, Feb. 11 of a style show sponsored by the local Home Demonstration Club and starring the 4-H club girls of Canal Point modeling clothes they had made in their sewing projects. Well it wasn't really a farm—just the community building with the 4-H colors of green and white used and the farm theme carried out in the decorations. Punch was served from a farm bucket with an old fashioned dipper.

Blue ribbon winning exhibits by the 4-H club girls, "Canal Point Stitches" and the Canal Point Junior Cattleman were on display. Available to guests free of charge were numerous informative pamphlets which Mrs. Elmer Maxson president of the local club asked to have announced were given each month to Home Demonstration members at their regular meetings.

Centered on this table was a greenery framed mirror captioned "Put yourself in the picture H-D needs YOU!" Mrs. M. C. Carter local vice president and county council H. D. officer greeted guests at the door and presented them with a leaflet describing H. D. work and listing the clubs in the county.

The program was opened with 4-Hers Pamela and Rolena Ursry singing a duet "Supportive" and Pam gave a piano solo entitled "March of the Candy Soldiers". Mrs. W. E. McCall as she announced the program, explained the projects available to a 4-Her and told the audience that in addition to the basic requirements a girl must complete a record book and give at least one demonstration of things she has learned in the project to receive credit.

Kandi Jane McCall made a "Candlestick Salad" as part of her "Foods and Nutrition Project". Ann Valiere demonstrated how to make a curler bag from a bleach bottle, with scuffs to match and Glennie Tret gave an illustrated talk on the correct way to choose clothes in connection with their "Sewing" projects.

Nancy Harrington made a delicious tuna casserole as her required demonstration in her "Foods and Nutrition" project. The basic 4-H uniform for younger girls of a green skirt and white blouse was modeled by girls enrolled in first year sewing. Girls modeling to the audience's singing "Old MacDonald had a Farm" were; Jamie Gibson, Diane Blackwell, Teryl Echols, Kathy Maxson, Regina Ingram and Avis Amerson. The first four girls also modeled outfits that they had made in addition to the required uniform.

In a first prize winning skit which brought each girl a blue ribbon at the South Florida fair the girls who are in their 2nd and 3rd year sewing projects and 3 girls who did advanced sewing in 1st year sewing repeated a skit entitled "A Letter From a 4-H Girl at College."

Mrs. Ray Ursry introduced the skit which was narrated by Mrs. McCall. On stage outlined in hay and decorated with sunflowers and wheat the following girls modeled outfits ranging from sportswear to party clothes; 1st year Anne Valiere, Wanda Hitchcock and Kandi McCall, 2nd and 3rd year Sandra Jackson, Pamela Ursry, Jacqueline Vandegrift, Patricia Hoyle, Rolena Ursry, Glennie Tret, Lillian Sims and Brenda Maxson. Junior leaders Peggy Bitting and Nancy Harrington.

Mrs. Claude Shirley was the winner of a cake in the drawing for the door prize and the program was closed by all the 4-H girls singing their theme song "Dreaming".

4-H leaders in Canal Point are Mrs. Elmer Maxson, Mrs. Ray Ursry, Mrs. A. R. Harrington, Mrs. Bruce Bitting and Mrs. W. E. McCall. Serving at the refreshment table were Mrs. Ralph Durum, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. Glenn Powell, Mrs. O. H. Sheppard and Mrs. Bruce Bitting.

Mrs. Maxson would like on behalf of the Home Demonstration club to express her appreciation and thanks to all those who helped to make our first 4-H style show such a wonderful success and to assure a 4-H girl of a scholarship to camp.

will have 14 classrooms. Contracts have been let and construction will start just as soon as the necessary roads and approaches are constructed by county equipment under the direction of Commissioner Rardin. Mr. Bailey said that the City of Belle Glade will furnish rock to cover two huge culverts that must be installed in drainage canals before the sites can be reached.

School superintendent John Martin was thoroughly conversant with the sites for the proposed schools and seemed to enjoy the on-site inspections. County Engineer Frost, who keeps himself informed on all county road projects here and on the east coast, brought along plans and specifications for the proposed work.

Commissioner Rardin in commenting upon the meeting which started at the Glades Office Building, from where the group went to the various school sites, said he had never witnessed such complete cooperation among a group of elected officials as was shown by City Commissioner Bailey, School Board Member Carpenter and School Superintendent Martin.

Attending the conference and on-site inspections with Commissioner Rardin were the following officials: Belle Glade City Commissioner Bill Bailey, County School Superintendent John Martin, Assistant Director for School Plants William Braniard, School Board Member Milton Carpenter, County Engineer George Frost. From the Palm Beach county road department were Road Superintendent J. K. Baker and General Superintendent Charles Maxson.
